TO HELP FARMERS.

The Free Delivery of Mail and the Extension of the Weather Bureau Service.

Special to the Telegram.

Washington, April 27—Representative Stokes, of South Carolina, who has been the prime leader in the movements to secure better mail facilities for the people of the rural districts of the United States, and who is very familiar with the needs of the country districts in the matter of mail privileges, in the House of Representatives the other day, in the course of the consideration of the agricultural appropriation bill, took occasion under the latitude allowed for debate to make some interesting observations and strong arguments in favor of the free delivery of mail in rural districts. Such extensions of free delivery have been made in SouthCarolina, Florida, Georgia and other Southern States during the past year, until there has been established in the South principally, a net work of star routes enjoying the free delivery facilities. By statement of the postoffice department authorities wherever the system has been put in operation, especially in South Carolina and Florida, it has worked well and satisfactory to the people who are enabled to obtain their mail without traveling, in many instances, long distances to the nearest postoffice, which is a great hardship to many hard working farmers, especially in stormy weather. By July 1st, the system of free delivery will be in operation practically all over the State of South Carolina, which will give a better opportunity than ever for the thorough testing of the system. The postoffice officials have no doubt but the advice will prove satisfactory to all interested. Mr. Stokes in his argument upon this subject contends that the free delivery of mail can be accomplished at an insignificant cost to the government, which is borne out by the statement of the postal authorities. The bill before the House of Representatives at the present time is identical with the one which was introduced by Congressman Stokes in the last Congress. The measure was reintroduced by him in the present Congress last December. The same measure has been introduced in the present Congress also by a member of the majority party.

In connection with the proposed extension of rural mail facilities, the proposed improvement to be established by the Secretary of Agriculture, which was mentioned in this correspondence some time ago, in the matter of the dissemination of weather predictions to the farmers of the country districts, is being pushed earnestly and at the Agricultural Department it is believed that it will not be long before the Agricultural Department is ready to put this system into operation. It is understood that in order to put this system in operation that it will not require any legislation from Congress. The system will not be put in operation at first, it is stated, all over the country in rural districts, but will probably be tried first in some state where rural free delivery has been tried by the Postoffice Department thoroughly. It would not be surprising if the Secretary of Agriculture decided to put the system of sending out weather reports in the manner described heretofore first in South Carolina, as the system of rural delivery has been tried most extensively already in that State. If it proves successful as the Secretary believes it will, it will then be gradually extended to other states having a large rural population.

Representative Crawford has presented a petition from the Letter Carrier's Association of Asheville, North Carolina, praying for an increase of salary for letter cariers. The petition has been referred to the Committee on Postoffices and Post Roads.

THE HISTORY OF ALAMANCE.

MISS STOCKARD'S BOOK NOW IN PRESS IN GREENSBORO.

Pronounced by Eminent Critics a Fine Chapter from North Carolina's History—Appears in June.

In the hands of C. F. Thomas, printer, of Greensboro, is a "History of Alamance," by Miss Sallie W. Stockard, and the book will be issued some time in June. The Telegram some time ago mentioned the fact that Miss Stockard, who is a graduate of the University, was in Greensboro taking orders for her book, but at that time the date of issue had not been decided upon. The book will contain 175 to 200 pages, cloth-bound, and illustrated, and will sell for $1.00 Orders should be sent to Miss Stockard at Chapel Hill. Concerning the book the Raleigh Post this morning says:

The History of Alamance is a chapter in the history of the Old North State—a very important chapter it is, too; for in Alamance was the first blood shed in the conflict between the two greatest powers of the old and the new world—England and America. In Alamance long ago settlers came from the castles of the Rhine, the Holts, Albrights, Fouts; from Holland, from England, decendants of Lord Holt, Lord Newlarde; from New England, in the Mayflowers, the Cooks and the Staffords; from France in the great Huguenot exodus; from Pennsylvania, Virginia; from everywhere, then affording good people. The descendants of these early settlers have peopled not only North Carolina, but also the great West, Indiana, Iowa, Arkansas, Tennessee, Georgia, owe their wealth, energy and power to the men and to the momentum and thrift of their forefathers in North Carolina, many of whom were "Alamancers."

Alamance, too, has been first in the State in cotton manufacturing through the sagacity of Edwin M. Holt and the grit of his sons and kinsmen. Governor Morehead used to call Alamance "our Eden," from her beautiful country, her gracious people. There Archibald Murphy and Judge Ruffin lived their balmiest days and best.

So Alamance has vitally affected the life, thought, enterprise of North Carolina. None can doubt it.

Miss Sallie W. Stockard, a daughter of Alamance, has written a history of that county and people. It has been examined and pronounced a worthy production by such eminent gentlemen as Drs. Hume, Alexander and Cobb.

It treats of the Saxapahaw Indians, who lived there once not long ago; of her early settlers; the Regulators; the War of the Regulation; the battles of Alamance; Lindley's Mill Pyles' Backing Match where Lighthorse Harry Lee so nobly put Tarleton and Cornwallis to fight; of cotton manufacturing; of schools, churches, etc. Part II. contains histories and sketches of families too numerous to mention.

Dr. Kemp P. Battle says: "I have been permitted to examine the manuscript of Miss Stockard's History of Alamance, and have found it to be comprehensive, interesting and instructive. It is of peculiar value to the people of Orange and her daughters, Alamance, Caswell, Person and Durham, too, most of which was once her territory. But, as old Orange was for years a large part of the State, and as many most important historical incidents occurred within her borders, Miss Stockard's book should be owned by all who are interested in the history of the State."

STRIKE SITUATION.

Mr Swain Says They Can Hold Out All The Summer.

The Telegram man called on Mr. J. F. Swain at his headquarters at Clegg's Hotel this afternoon and asked him for a statement as to the strike situation. Mr. Swain said: "There has been no change in the situation in the past few days. The Southern Railway is unable to employ any more 'scab' operators so far as we can learn." When asked if he thought the strikers would win out he said: "We certainly will. We are going to keep the boycott up all summer. The Southern is now losing every day more than it would require to double the salaries of all the operators. If we should lose this strike it would paralyze our organization in this section for many years.

"The Seaboard Air Line and Atlantic Coast Line have been obliged just on two or three extra trains every day on account of the boycott. We are connected with the American Federation of Labor Unions and every Labor Union in the South is using its influence to aid us in our fight."

We called at the office of Supt O'Brien, of the Southern Railway, to get the Southern's side of the matter but were unable to find him. Those connected with the railroad, however, say that the strike is having very little effect now.

INFLICT AN IMMENSE DAMAGE.

Correspondents Point Out the Good Effect That Pole-Carew's March Is Bound to Have

By Wire to the Telegram

London, April 27—No fresh war news comes this morning. The war correspondents, reviewing the recent operations, point out that while successful only in compelling the Boers to evacuate their positions, Pole-Carew's march is bound to have an excellent effect. Wherever he found Free Staters who had broken their oaths of allegiance, he ordered their horses and cattle seized. Recently Free Staters who professed friendship for Great Britian have been hiding mausers at distant Kopjes, instead of burying them on their own farms. The latest dispatches from Lorenzo Marquez say that the number of Boers now in the field is estimated at thirty thousand of whom thirteen thousand are at Kroonstadt, six thousand of Natal and seven hundred at Mafeking. Seven French cannons have arrived at Pretoria and it is said that they were secretly larded at Kosi Bay and sent from there to the Transvaal via Swaziland.

London, April 26—All the interest in the South Africa war is now centered in the running fight in progress between the burghers retreating from the southern portion of the Orange Free State, and General French's horsemen and the infantry of Generals Pole-Carew, Chermside and Rundle. But the British hope of conclusive results is slim at present, the Boers escaping unbeaten and having accomplished an immense amount of damage. They clung to their positions as long as it was safe to do so, and they have now slipped off to hold the next commanding ridge through a broken country admirably suited for a rear guard defence. Dispatches from Aliwal North under date of Wednesday, April 25th, say the Boers left Wepener so hurriedly that many of the dead were left in the trenches unburied. Commandant Cronje is reported to have been killed. According to advices from Bloemfontein, the attempt of the Boers at Brandford to get in touch with the command at Thaba N'Chu was frustrated by a force dispatch by General Tucker from Glen A dispatch from Pretoria reports the arival there of Lord Rosslyn as an unwounded prisoner.

By Wire to the Telegram.

Ottawa, April 27—Estimates of the loss by the great fire vary from twenty to thirty millions, still burning at Hull but stopped at the Cliffs of Ottawa. The streets of Ottawa are crowded with homeless men, women and children. It is reported this morning that the police had reason to believe that the fire was the result of a gigantic fireburg plot. The fires were set crescent form so that the wind would cause them to circle the entire lumber districts.

Making Barrels.

"Cooperage is one of the trades that no one thought of improving until within recent years," said a manufacturer, "but then the inventors and expert machinists started in with such a rush that it takes a good deal of our time keeping abreast of the improvements that are coming into the market every day.

"The work used to be done entirely by hand, and the coopers often had to buy their hoops from a firm that made nothing else. The coopers were not well enough equipped to make all the different parts of a barrel themselves, and often they bought everything outside and merely put the barrels together. It used to take five or six men to do the work properly, and an hour's time would perhaps turn out ten barrels.

"As the system is now, all the different parts are made by one machine, and only one man is needed to attend it. After the wood is fashioned into staves and hoops and braces by it the pieces are run through another section of it and come out almost immediately a finished barrel, ready to be loaded and shipped to our customers.

"On a regular average about 30 barrels can be turned out in an hour. You can see what the saving is over the old way. Employing six men for one hour, as they used to do, we can get 160 barrels, where by the old system they were only able to get ten."—Pittsburg Chronicle-Telegraph.

Nod and Drop Asleep.

Dr. Pardini of Turin claims that he has discovered that the best method of treating obstinate insomnia is to make his patients imitate the drowsy noddings of a tired man while sitting in a chair.

Every one who has ever watched a sleepy man in a train has probably been amused by the neck distorting nods which herald the approach of sleep. If the observer has given any thought to the subject at all, he has probably decided that the contortions are due to the sleeper's unconscious efforts to preserve his balance. Dr. Pardini says that the balance has nothing to do with it. He declares that nodding is pathologic; that it is nature's own method of inducing sleep.

This, if properly carried out, brings the head of the patient almost upon his right shoulder. The body is then to be inclined to the left and the head allowed to roll in that direction, still uncontrolled by the muscles. As soon as the head has reached the left shoulder muscular control is to be resumed and the head raised slowly until it is in the same position as at the beginning of the exercise. Then the whole method is to be repeated as long as needful.

Chinese Arithmetic.

The Chinese rejoice in a wonderful talent for inaccuracy in every detail. For instance, a pound or a pint varies as it suits the merchant's fancy. In some part you get half or a quarter as much as you do in others for the same price and measure.

Then, again, their way of calculating distance does not at all tally with Euclid. For instance, you are told from A to B is four miles, but from B to A is eight miles. If you ask how this is possible, you are told it depends from which end you start; if you start from A, it is down hill, so much easier to walk; whereas, starting from B, you have to walk up hill, which is much more exerting and fatiguing—in fact, it is the same as walking a longer distance on even ground.

This form of argument always amused me nearly as much as the way the Chinese have of counting a person's age by tens. "My mother," they will tell you, "is 30" (or 40). When she leaves 30, she is getting near 40. Should we all like to be told that, I wonder?—Leslie's Weekly.

Literary Consuls.

It is one of the curiosities of literature, says George F. Parker in The Atlantic, that, although the consular service has not produced reports of either economic or informing value, many writers have done conspicuous work before and during service and after retirement. W. D. Howells wrote some delightful books on Italy. Besides his "Life of Peter the Great," Eugene Schuyler wrote an acceptable short history of American diplomacy and translated some of Turgeneff's novels. Hawthorne, Elihu Burritt, Underwood, Bret Harte, Penfield, Richman—to mention only a few—have done notable work in literature, but not an official report of value. In the one case there was something to say, united with freedom of view and opinion; in the other there was nothing to say, and red tape was too strong for them. The fault is in the system, not in the men.

Cooking and Eating.

If we ate properly, the physician would lose his occupation. And we can eat for whatever we want—to get fat, to get lean, to be nervous or phlegmatic or to stop or encourage the ravages of disease. An "open door" awaits them all. Is it too much to hope that the twentieth century will see a law compelling cooks to take a medical course?

Almost There Already.

FRIDAY, APRIL 27 1900.

THE TAILORS OF TOOLEY STREET

Once upon a time there was a famous meeting in London. Three tailors of Tooley street joined together in a great meeting to state their grievances. There were these three and no more, yet they began their resolutions oy saying "We, the people of England."

And so the tailors of Tooley street have remained famous till this day.

In Greensboro we have eclipsed the wonderful record of the three tailors of Tooley street. Two or three men who thought they had grievances got together, wrote a wonderful call for a meeting, and signed it "Many Citizens"! "Many Citizens," indeed!

The three tailors of Tooley street signed themselves "the people of England."

Why couldn't these two or three self-elected leaders sign themselves "Many Citizens?" They could. They did.

But the Democratic party of Greensboro will recollect, just the same, that they are only the "Tailors of Tooley Street."

"THE MAN WITH THE WHISKERS"

We were not advertent to the fact, until it was pointed out by the New York Sun, that at the last Democratic national convention there were just sixteen candidates for the nomination for vice president—sixteen to one as it were. The list is interesting even if it is a little out of date, because it contains some very interesting personalities. Among them were R P. Bland, who has since died; Joseph C. Sibley, who has since withdrawn from the party; George Fred Williams, of Massachussetts, and John R. McLean, of Ohio, who have both since been defeated for Governor of their States; Blackburn, of Kentucky, who has since been elected United States Senator; Daniel, of Virginia, who was a United States Senator at the time; Judge Walter Clark, of North Carolina, and Arthur Sewall, of Maine, who was the candidate nominated on the fifth ballot.

And after all the rush for the nomination, our people in North Carolina got the opportunity to vote for half of Mr. Sewall, "as it were." But that is among the things of the past and has already been forgotten by a good many people, while the question of who will be put up this year is becoming interesting. Of course the talk from any source of defeating Mr. Bryan is so much moonshine. There will be but one nomination to bestow at the Kansas City convention, and that will be for the vice presidency. Who will get it? Not one of the candidates of 1896 is an aspirant today. Besides John Walter Smith, Governor of Maryland, The Sun says the list includes this time "William Sulzer, of New York, a native of Elizabeth, N. J.; Carter Harrison, of Chicago, present mayor of that city: Adlai Stevenson, of Bloomington, the last Democratic Vice President; John T. Morgan of Alabama; Stephen M. White, of California; James Smith, Jr., of Newark; Senator McEnery, of Louisiana; June Gale, of Kentucky, said to be the handsomest man in Congress; Thomas Taggart, mayor of Indianapolis, and Congressman Benjamin Shively of South Bend, Ind."

This list had better be pasted in the new straw hats of the season, so that when the convention nominates one of them, we won't all be at a loss to know who he is and where he hails from, as it was in the case of Sewall, whom nobody in this section had ever heard of. But we have not yet mentioned the Sun's most interesting candidate. Here he is:

Another candidate is Henry J. Caldwell, of Arkansas, formerly known as "the Man With the Whiskers." He wears a seven and five-eighths broad-brimmed hat, is a native of West Virginia, was a cavalry officer in an Iowa regiment during the civil war, and has been a judge for thirty-six years in United States courts. So soon as it was known that he had whiskers, many Southwestern Populists were attracted to his support, but since there has been a rumor to the effect that these whiskers are in part, at least, fictitious, and, so to speak, only a hirsute reminiscence, the support of Judge Caldwell has devolved chiefly upon the Silver Republicans and former Prohibitionists."

We are for "the Man With the Whiskers."

No doubt most of our readers who notice the article in this paper concerning the plan to give free mail delivery to the country districts, will pass it over with a glance and hardly a thought. But we believe that this is a matter of vital importance to a large body of the citizens of this country. People who live on the farms have a cheerless monotony in their daily toils, and the opportunity of getting mail and news every day would be a great boon to them The postoffice department could do no better thing than at once complete the plans of giving free mail delivery to the whole country as far as is possible. From the extention of the weather bureau service, we are not so hopeful. Too many of the farmers can beat the weatherman at his own game, but then, the sport to be derived from the contest might prove of much zest.

MR. SMITH'S WITHDRAWAL.

Not a Protest, he Says, Against the Confession—Preparing Statement.

As our readers know much has been said about the withdrawal of Rev Hay Watson Smith from the Southern Presbyterian church. Mr. Smith writes, from Little Rock, Ark., the following to the Charlotte Observer:

"It gives me very little concern, Mr. Editor, that I should be considered unorthodox. The charge of heresy is, in my opinion, a mere bogy; and yet the fear inspired by it has been a fruitful cause of cowardice and equivocation with priests and ministers of every branch of the church.

"I do wish to say, however, that my withdrawal from the ministry of the Southern Presbyterian Church, the Church to which I owe so much, and which I love above all others, is not "a protest against the Confession of Faith."

"I am preparing, as rapidly as circumstances will permit, an article in which I shall make perfectly plain the primary ground of my withdrawal In the meantime I trust that your readers will not class me with certain sciolists and rhetoricians who are now fulminating in so lurid a manner, and with so little sense of propriety, against the Westminister Confession."

An Example and a Warning.

Chicago Daily News.

"I'm afraid," said the patient wife, "that yours will be the fate of Abel."

"Why, what do you mean?" asked the astonished husband.

"Well," she replied, "Abel was killed by a club, and your club will be the death of you if you don't come home oftener."

GLORIOUS NEWS

Comes from Dr. D. B. Cargile, of Washita, I. T. He writes: "Four bottles of Electric Bitters has cured Mrs. Brewer of scrofula, which had caused her great suffering for years. Terrible sores would break out on her head and face, and the best doctors could give no help: but her cure is complete and her health is excellent." This shows what thousands have proved,—that Electric Bitters is the best blood purifier known. It's the supreme remedy for eczema, tetter, salt rheum, ulcers, boils and running sores. It stimulates liver, kidneys and bowels, expels poisons, helps digestion, builds up the strength. Only 50 cents. Sold by C. E. Holton, druggist. Guaranteed.

MANY LIVES SAVED.

In almost every neighborhood there is some one whose life has been saved by Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, or who has been cured of chronic diarrhoea by the use of that medicine. Such persons make a point of telling of it whenever an opportunity offers, hoping that it may be the means of saving other lives. For sale by C. E. Holton, druggist.

"I would rather marry a girl who bangs her hair," says the confirmed bachelor, "than a girl who bangs the piano."

THE BEST IN THE WORLD.

We believe that Chamberlains's Cough Remedy is the best in the world. A few weeks ago we suffered with a severe cold and a troublesome cough, and having read their advertisements in our own own and other papers we purchased a bottle to see how it would affect us. It cured us before the bottle was more than half used. It is the best medicine out for colds and coughs —The Herald, Andersonville, Ind. For sale by C. E. Holton, druggist.

HOW TO CATCH A COLD.

The Various Ways In Which It May Be Accomplished.

The various ways in which a cold may be brought on are thus described by Dr. J. H. Kellogg: "A little knife blade of air blowing in through a crack in a window upon some part of the body will chill that part, and the blood vessels of that region will become contracted, affecting somewhere in the interior of the body an area in reflex relation with this portion of the surface of the body.

"For instance, the blood vessels of the skin of the top of the shoulders and the chest are associated with the blood vessels of the lungs, so that whatever happens to the blood vessels of the skin of the shoulders and chest happens also to the blood vessels of the lungs. If there is a contraction of the blood vessels of the back of the neck, there will be a contraction of the blood vessels of the nose and throat, and if there is a contraction of the blood vessels of the top of the shoulders and the shoulder blades there will also be a contraction of the blood vessels of the lungs. When the influence of the cold is continued, this contraction is followed by congestion.

"When one puts his hands into cold water for a few minutes, they are first pale and then red. This is reaction. The longer the application and the more intense the degree of cold the greater will be the contraction and the congestion. So if the back of the neck is exposed for a long time to the influence of cold one is likely to have a cold in the nose and throat. If the shoulder blades and the tops of the shoulders are exposed, one is likely to take cold in the lungs and suffer from congestion of the lungs. If the cold is long continued, it may cause not only a congestion, but an inflammation of the nose or the lungs.

"So if the bottoms of the feet become wet or chilled a weakness of the bladder may result if there has ever been a trouble there or a weakness of the stomach if there has been a catarrh of that organ."—Good Health.

BABY'S PRETTY CURLS.

Pulled Them Off In a Car and Embarrassed Her Mamma.

A well dressed woman with a beautiful baby in her arms attracted the attention of all the passengers on a Germantown car. Every one was fascinated by the baby's pretty and smiling face and particularly by two golden curls which hung down her cheeks.

After awhile the child became nervous and began to tug at one of the curls which protruded from her hood. The woman, presumably her mother, quickly stopped her, but a few moments later she looked out of the window. No sooner was her face turned than the child seized her bonnet with both hands and pulled it off. Offer little resistance, but to the astonishment of every one on the car the curls came with it, and the supposed golden haired baby showed that in reality its head was without the semblance of a hair.

The child swung the bonnet to and fro and laughingly held it up for the inspection of the other passengers. It was almost a minute before the woman turned around. When she saw what the baby had done, her face flushed, and without a word she picked up the child and walked sedately out of the car. When last seen, she was trudging down Spring Garden street with the baby tucked under her arm like a sack of oats, but still holding tightly to the bonnet and cooing, "See my pooty hair?"—Philadelphia Times.

Behind the Scenes.

"A good many people," said a veteran stage manager the other day, "have an idea that beyond the scenes of a stage there is great fun and hilarity and that actors have a jolly sort of time between their appearances before the audience. The fact is a military camp during times of inspection is no more sedate than is the rear of any well regulated stage when the public in front of the footlights is being entertained. The shifting of scenes and the proper execution of an intricate play require all the thought that can be given them. All the men and women have all they can do to properly perform their parts. If a manager is an easy going man, caring little for discipline, he soon gets to the end of his career. You may be sure there is no business that is carried on in a more businesslike way than is the playhouse, and when the fun is on in the front those behind the scenes are carefully watching to see that no hitch occurs and that every one is ready to do his part at the proper time and does it properly when the time comes."—Washington Star.

How to Dry Rubber Boots.

It was a problem how to dry out hip rubber boots. In the sitting room there was an open grate fire which was covered every night with fine coal and a few shovelfuls of ashes, so that the room never became quite cold. We found that if we heated a piece of old flannel as hot as possible and stuffed it down into the foot of a boot and stood the boot in front of the fireplace it was as dry as a bone next morning. The handiest thing to keep the boot leg open is a spring steel corset rib about 18 inches long by three-quarter inch in width.—Forest and Stream.

Refrigerated Eggs.

Eggs become unwholesome when kept in refrigerators. A fungus forms in them which is easily found by the microscope, although it is not noticeable to the taste. The fungus constitutes a danger when we consider how many eggs are consumed by all classes of society, and people of delicate constitutions ought to be particularly careful that they eat fresh and not kept eggs.

DOES IT PAY TO BUY CHEAP?

A cheap remedy for coughs and colds is all right, but you want something that will relieve and cure the more severe and dangerous results of throat and lung troubles. What shall you do? Go to a warmer and more regular climate? Yes, if possible; if not possible for you, then in either case take the only remedy that has been introduced in all civilized countries with success in severe throat and lung troubles, "Boschee's German Syrup." It not only heals and stimulates the tissues to destroy the germ disease, but allays inflammation, causes easy expectoration, gives a good night's rest, and cures the patient. Try one bottle. Recommended many years by all druggists in the world. For sale by Grissom & Ford ham.

BOOKSELERS AND STATIONERS.

Love is the corner-stone of a woman's life. She builds all her hopes upon and around those tender affections which she cherishes toward the ones who are dear to her, and which she looks for them in return.

It is woman's nature; it is the God-given trait that makes her a fond wife, sweetheart; a comforting, helpful friend; an ever-loving, solicitous, tender mother.

Every woman feels that the responsibilities of wifehood and motherhood become irksome to her—a source of trouble rather than a source of joy and inspiration—it shows that there is some deficiency in her physical system, some abnormal and unhealthy condition of the delicate and important organs of womanhood.

Thousands of women annually write to Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., the eminent specialist in women's diseases requesting professional advice, which he is always glad to send free, and telling him of the marvelous benefits they have received from his wonderful "Favorite Prescription" in building up their health and physical energy.

One writes: "I cannot express my gratitude to you for the benefit I have received from your wonderful 'Favorite Prescription,'" writes Mrs. [illegible] of South Britain, New Haven Co., Conn. "During the first month of pregnancy I could not keep anything on my stomach, and was so sick that I had to go to bed and stay there. Several doctors, but with little benefit, as I kept on growing worse. I thought I would give it a trial, so began to take 'Favorite Prescription' and had a nice little baby girl in due time. My baby weighed over nine pounds, was only in hard labor about one hour, and has grown along nicely during confinement. I dressed on the eighth day. 'Favorite Prescription' helped me wonderfully, and prevented me from having a miscarriage. I have a second child; with the first one I used 'Favorite Prescription' and I had the best baby in the world. This last baby is as plump and healthy as any mother could wish."

MODERN MINE SALTING.

The Way This Swindle Is Artfully Worked In Mexico.

"Mine salting nowadays has developed into a very nice art," said an engineer and assayer who has lately returned from the inspection of some properties in old Mexico. "In former times it was done crudely. A rascal who wanted to give fictitious value to a worthless prospect hole generally bought or stole a sack of high grade ore and simply scattered it about the excavation, where the victim would be likely to pick up a few pieces for sampling. If an exposed ledge was to be dealt with, he sometimes filed up a $20 goldpiece, loaded the dust into a shotgun and fired it against the surface from which specimens would be taken.

"But at present greater finesse is needed. The up to date purchaser insists upon having fresh ore blasted out from beneath the surface, where it could not possibly be tampered with, and seals it up in a little canvas sack for the assayer with his own hands. It is then that the latest development, the hypodermic syringe, comes into play. The scientific mine salter has one of these handy little implements in his coat pocket, charged with a solution of chloride of gold.

"He watches for an opportunity, and when one presents itself quietly thrusts the tip of the needle through the canvas sack and gives the piston a gentle push. The consequence is that a few drops of the liquid are discharged over the surface of the ore. The quantity of gold in the solution is almost infinitesimal, but it is enough to 'run up' an assay $1,000 a ton.

"Meanwhile the victim is tranquil in the knowledge that he has selected the samples himself and has them safely sacked under his own private seal. Hypodermic mine salting is all the go in Mexico at present. It beats the old method to death."—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

RUSSIAN POLICEMEN.

New Governor's Test For Their Alertness Was a Failure.

A good story is being told in St. Petersburg of the Russian police which the papers pronounce to be exceedingly characteristic. A new governor was sent to a certain town in the interior, and the inhabitants at once began to complain that the police were badly organized, since, however much they were wanted, they would never come when they were sent for. The governor determined to test this for himself, so one night he set out for the barracks where the police and the fire brigade were quartered. He accosted the sentry:

"Do you know me?"

"Yes, your excellency."

"If a man was being murdered close by, would you quit your post?"

"Never, your excellency."

"Good," said the governor. "You know your duty. Well, what would you do?"

"I would blow my whistle to rouse the guard."

"Good. Let us suppose some one is being murdered here. Whistle."

The soldier blew, but not a soul answered. He blew again and again, but the same silence prevailed.

"That will do," said the governor at last. "You have whistled your utmost, and nobody has come; but, at any rate, your conscience is tranquil. Now you can go to sleep. The man could have been murdered two or three times over. It is unnecessary to overdo it by trying to wake your comrades, who appear to sleep like the dead. The czar should be proud of such steady soldiers."

With that the governor went off, congratulating himself that no one would be likely to accuse his police of having a share in the midnight murders of the town.

Out of Sight.

An English cotton buyer in Memphis was talking with the clerk of one of the hotels the other day when a commercial traveler came up. "How you feeling, Bill?" said the clerk as he extended his hand. "Oh, I'm just out of sight," replied the drummer.

After the commercial man had been assigned his room the Englishman turned to the clerk and inquired what he meant by "out of sight." The clerk explained that he meant he was feeling fine, and the Englishman recorded it in his little book.

The next morning when he same down to breakfast the clerk, following his usual custom, asked how he felt. The Englishman thought it a good time to try some of his newly learned slang and, with the air of one who has solved a difficult problem, replied, "Oh, you kaun't see me at all!"—Memphis Scimitar.

Motion and Color.

The relations between light and the eye are wonderful, and the rapidity of the vibrations of the atmosphere necessary to produce color sensations are amazing. To get the sensation of redness our eyes are affected 482,000,000 times in a second; of yellowness, 540,000,000, and of violet, 707,000,000. So that the seven hued rainbow, whose firm and subtle flame is reared out of drops of water that are ever shifting, plays upon the human eye in a manner so astounding that the strongest mind might stagger beneath the awful revelation.—London Opinion.

Too Long to Wait.

"If you will get my new suit done by Saturday," said a customer to a tailor, "I'll be forever indebted to you."

"If that's your game," replied the tailor, "the clothes will not be done at all."—Indianapolis Journal.

Philadelphia, Baltimore and Washington are red brick cities, red brick being the predominating building material. In Washington the sameness is relieved by the granite public buildings and marble business structures.

J. I. Carson, Prothonotary, Washington Pa., says, "I have found Ko-Do-Dyspepsia Cure an excellent remedy in case of stomach trouble, and have derived great benefit from its use." It digests what you eat and can not fail to cure. Howard Gardner.

COLD STEEL OR DEATH

"There is but one small chance to save your life and that is by an operation," was the awful prospect set before Mrs. I. B. Hunt, of Lime Ridge, Wisconsin, by her doctor after vainly trying to cure her of a frightful case of stomach trouble and yellow jaundice. He didn't count on the marvelous powers of Electric Bitters to cure stomach and liver troubles, but she heard of it, took seven bottles was wholly cured, avoided surgeon's knife, now weighs more and feels better than ever. It's positively guaranteed to cure stomach, liver and kidney troubles and never disappoints. Price fifty cents at C. E. Holton's drug store.

ONE OF LIFE'S TRAGEDIES.

Raleigh Post.

Mrs. Dora Baker, who came here three weeks ago from Harnett county, lies at Rex Hospital with a bullet hole through her neck and throat.

Whether Mrs Baker inflicted the wound or whether the deed was done by her husband, A. D. Baker, the only person in the house at the time, is a question that is puzzling the officers.

Mrs. Baker says she shot herself. The husband tells the same story and is apparently unconcerned, though a prisoner in Wake county jail. The conduct of Mr. Baker, immediately after the shooting took place, led to his arrest. He left the house after the tragic scene, without taking the trouble to notify friends or a physician and went to the union depot and took a seat, where he was arrested.

But Mr. Baker is in love. His wife had run away from the shelter of his home with another man The wife sent for him to come to her. "I loved her and I came," said Mr. Baker from behind the bars of Wake jail last evening. "I don't know what I did it for, but I came to find out what she left me for. I don't know why she should want to kill herself. But this is the second time she has done so. She ran away with another man then This has been several years ago. She sent for me yesterday and begged me to take her back home. I told her I saw no use in taking her back, for she would soon leave again I think she shot herself because she believed I would never take her back home."

QUESTIONS ANSWERED.

Yes, August Flower still has the largest sale of any medicine in the civilized world. Your mothers and grandmothers never thought of using anything else for indigestion or biliousness. Doctors were scarce, and they seldom heard of appendicitis, nervous prostration or heart failure, etc. They used August Flower to clean out the system and stop fermentation of undigested food, regulate the action of the liver, stimulate the nervous and organic action of the system, and that is all they took when feeling dull and bad with headaches and othaches. You only need a few doses of Green's August Flower, in liquid form, to make you satisfied there is nothing serious the matter with you. For sale by Grissom & Fordham.

REMARKABLE CURE OF RHEUMATISM.

Kenna, Jackson Co., W. Va.

About three years ago my wife had an attack of rheumatism which confined her to her bed for over a month and rendered her unable to walk a step without assistance, her limbs being swollen double their normal size. Mr. S. Maddox insisted on my using Chamberlain's Pain Balm. I purchased a fifty-cent bottle and used it according to the directions and the next morning she walked to breakfast without assistance in any manner, and she has not had a single attack since.—A. B. BRAVE MEN FALL

Victims to stomach, liver and kidney troubles as well as women, and all feel the results in loss of appetite, poisons in the blood, backache, nervousness, headache and tired, listless, run-down feeling. But there's no need to feel like that. Listen to J. W. Gardner, Idaville, Ind. He says: "Electric Bitters are just the thing for a man when he is all run down, and don't care whether he lives or dies. It did more to give me new strength and appetite than any thing I could take. I can now eat anything and have a new lease on life." Only 50 cents at C. E. Holton's drug store. Every bottle guaranteed.

NO RIGHT TO UGLINESS

The woman who is lovely in face form and temper will always have friends, but one who would be attractive must keep her health. If she is weak, sickly and run down, she will be nervous and irritable. If she has constipation or kidney trouble, her impure blood will cause pimples, blotches, skin eruptions and a wretched complexion. Electric bitters is the best medicine in the world to regulate stomach, liver and kidneys and to purify the blood. It gives strong nerves, bright eyes, smooth, velvety skin, rich complexion. It will make a good-looking, charming woman of a run down invalid. Only 50 cents at C. E Holton's drug store.

FOR THE BABIES.

There is no better medicine for the babies than Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Its pleasant taste and prompt and effectual cures make it a favorite with mothers and small children It quickly cures their coughs and colds, preventing pneumonia or other serious consequences. It also cures croup and has been used in tens of thousands of cases without a single failure so far as we have been able to learn It not only cures croup, but when given as soon as the croupy cough appears, will prevent the attack. In cases of whooping cough it liquefies the tough mucous, making it easier to expectorate, and lessens the severity and frequency of the paroxysms of coughing, thus depriving that disease of all dangerous consequences. SEVEN RUNNING SORES CURED

—BY—

Johnston's Sarsaparilla

QUART BOTTLES.

THE GREAT SPRING MEDICINE.

JOHNSTON'S SARSAPARILLA as a Blood Food and Nerve Energizer, is the greatest SPRING MEDICINE ever discovered. It comes as a rich blessing from heaven to the "worn out," the run down, the overworked and debilitated. That "tired feeling," those "sinking spells," the languor and despondency which arise from badly nourished nerves, from thin, vitiated blood and an underfed body, vanish as if by a magic spell. The weariness, lassitude and nervous prostration which accompany the spring-time and the heat of summer, are conquered and banished at once. For every form of neurasthenia, and all ailments of the brain and nerve, insomnia, hysteria and nervousness generally, it is almost a specific. It furnishes the very elements to rebuild worn-out nerve tissues. It feeds brain, nerve centers and nerves, calming and equalizing their action; it makes rich, red, honest blood. Newness of life, new hope, new strength follow its faithful use. It makes the weak strong, and the old young again.

It was the antiquated (but now happily exploded) method in the good old times, to treat Salt Rheum, Scrofula, Cancer and other troublesome disorders arising from BLOOD TAINT with powerful alteratives, such as mercury, arsenic and other mineral agents. It was expected by this treatment that the poison could be killed while the blood was left to course through its channels holding in its circulation the specific germs of the disease. But in this way, every part of the body became more or less diseased. Nothing can be more terrible than a horribly destructive blood taint. It not only attacks virulently the different structures of the body, but many times the bones are honey-combed and destroyed. It often seeks out the nerves and spinal cord, and again it will bring decay and death to some vital organ, as the kidneys, liver or stomach. There is only one scientific method for the cure of blood taint. That is, PURIFICATION! Every particle of the blood must be removed through the excretory channels, the lungs, kidneys, bowels, liver and skin. "First pure, then peaceable." The great restorative, reconstructive and vitalizer of the blood, JOHNSTON'S SARSAPARILLA, not only radically and exhaustively removes the taint, but also removes all mercury, calomel and other minerals, and fills the veins and arteries with the ruby, glowing current of vitality. "The blood is the life." Good health means pure blood. The old and reliable remedy, JOHNSTON'S SARSAPARILLA, is universally regarded as the greatest Blood Purifier ever discovered. This fact is now established beyond question or cavil.

WINE OF CARDUI

Woman's Crowning Virtue.

BELTON, Mo., July 27.

For years I suffered terrible pains every month and my doctor told me I could not be cured except by an operation. I felt I could not submit to that and was so despondent I had given up all hopes of a cure. My husband insisted on my trying Wine of Cardui and at last thank God I did try it. Last month I did not have a pain, and did all my work, which I had not done in seven years.

MRS. MINNIE LITTLE.

McELREE'S Wine of Cardui

Modesty is the crowning virtue of American women. It is the trait that all mankind admires. A modest woman is the most pleasing of all created things. Because of this becoming virtue thousands of women prefer to suffer untold miseries rather than confide their troubles to a physician and to even think of submitting to an examination is revolting. They can't get their own consent to an operation. Wine of Cardui permits sensitive women to retain their modesty. With it they can cure "female troubles" in the quiet of their own rooms. If special treatment is required they can write to the Advisory Department of the Chattanooga Medicine Co., and their letters will be promptly answered by women trained in the cure of womanly weaknesses and irregularities. There should be no hesitation. Delayed treatment means a chronic condition. The longer postponed the harder to cure.

Fairbrother told a Telegram reporter that Mrs. Fairbrother would remain in Durham and that it was his intent on to return to Durham in two years and revive the old "Durham Globe" which he edited there several years ago.

A Card of Thanks.

To those who helped us: As it would be impossible for my feeble tongue to express my appreciation of so many acts of kindness, were I to meet you all face to face, I take this method of tendering my heartfelt thanks to so many kind friends who have shown by acts of kindness and deeds of love, their real sympathy to me during the sickness and death of my dear wife. Surely our lots have been cast among a sympathetic and loving people who hath done all that human hands could do to add to our relief and comfort during her sickness and in death, to bind up the broken hearts. W. W. Workman

Meeting of Physicians.

The physicians of the city are requested not to forget the meeting tonight for the purpose of electing a board of trustees for control of the proposed hospital. It is a very important meeting, and should not be forgotten, we are requested to state.

SHOULD HAVE WAITED PRIMARY.

DEMOCRATS WOULD NOT THEN HAVE BEEN IN BAD COMPANY.

Independents Depending Upon White Republicans and Negroes to Elect Their Ticket.

It is fair to presume that every loyal Democrat regrets the muddled condition of municipal politics. This regret is made deeper because it is sought to make it appear to be a fight among Democrats, when in reality it is an out and out fight on the Democratic organization, and the leaders are depending upon the votes of Republicans and negroes to defeat the nominees of the Democratic party, even before these nominations are made. There is no denial of the fact that some of the supporters of the opposition movement in the present campaign have heretofore been constant in their allegiance to the regular organization of the Democratic party, and that is why we attempt to show them the mistake they are now making. For such Democrats as have been honestly led off in this movement there should be no word of condemnation, we only believe them to be laboring under mistaken ideas, and expect them to see it that way before the election. Those who are sincere in their action and honest in their intentions, and who propose to make an honest fight, open and above board, have a moral right to desert the party organization if they see fit. A man's independence of action, in political as well as in other matters, is always granted. But they must be reminded that they are entrapped in a fight shoulder to shoulder with the enemy of the Democratic party, and are injuring the party by aligning themselves against it.

The mistake honest Democrats who may be supporting the "Citizens' Ticket" are making is in leaving their party and allying themselves with the forces against which they have always contended. Whether they wish to bring the party around to their way of thinking, or whether they desire the election of a certain set of men, they should have been governed by the plan of organization and confined their efforts within party limits. The Democratic party has wisely provided for such contingencies by giving us the primary, in which every Democrat may have a voice. If any voter is not heard in behalf of a cause he may esh use, it is his own fault; if the members of the party allow themselves to be controlled or ruled by a clique or ring, they can ascribe it to no other cause than their own apathy. No man nor set of men can rule party affairs any longer than the individual voters submit to such rule.

The disaffected Democrats of Greensboro who have arrayed themselves against the regular ticket to be named next week should have waited for the primaries and submitted their claims there. That would have been Democratic. If they had determined to abide by the results of the primaries, that would have been Democracy in its purest type. Majority rule is a cardinal principle of Democracy, and these so called independent Domocrats should have been willing to recognize and be governed by this principle. In the event of being in a minority, a bolt after the primaries would have been in better taste than desertion before.

Of all times, this year, when white supremacy is the one predominating issue of the Democrrtic party in North Carolina, is the most inopportune time to engage in a fight against the Democratic party in a town or city. The issue which confronts us in this campaign towers far above any matter of local concern, and no Democrat can afford to allow passion or prejudice to cause him to join the enemy in a fight against the regular organization of his own party. Without the hope and expectation and even the assurance of assistance of Republican voters in Greensboro the "Citizens Ticket" would not have been nominated. It is claimed by some of the supporters of this movement that about 300 Democrats will vote the citizen's ticket. They hope to secure a sufficient number of votes from the Democratic party, together with the solid vote of the Republican party to elect the ticket, or it would not have been put out. A large percentage of these votes will in all probability be cast by the negroes, for whose disfranchisement all Democrats will vote in August. There are on the registration books the names of 501 negroes, many of whom were induced to register within the past few days by supporters of the opposition ticket.

And thus is presented the anamoly of Democrats who profess to believe the negro incapable of properly exercising the right of franchise joining with the colored brother in an effort to disrupt the Democratic party in Greensboro. It is unnecessary to point out the possible disastrous result of such action—the defeat of the Democratic ticket and the amendment in Guilford county next August That very result is the reward the Republicans hope to get out of this deal. Will Democrats allow themselves to be made tools of?

Miss Blalock's Recital.

The graduate recital of Miss Ethel Blalock at the Greensboro Female College last evening was a brilliant success, and those who received cards to this delightful affair considered themselves especially fortunate. Miss Mozelle Andrews and Mr. J. M. Parker assisted Miss Blalock. This young pianist displays remarkable talent which has been developed by a master of the art who has made her an almost perfect mistress of the piano forte. Brilliancy and ease and fine technique characterized each well executed numbers.

Miss Mary Andrews, who possesses a voice of rare sweetness and purity, never sang more delightfully and when Mr. Parker rendered (by request) "The Holy City" the audience went wild. He was encored again and again and his refusal to respond was indeed a disappointment. The evening was a great treat to all.

FRAYED AT THE END.

The "Citizen Ticket" in Need of Some Patching to Make it Whole.

Yesterday the Telegram gave the following as the "Citizens' Ticket," naming all those who had not by their own statements "come down."

First Ward—J. H. Walsh, ——.
Second—S. B. Adams, J. E. Catlin.
Third—M. C. Stewart, ——.
Fourth—J. A. Barringer, ——.
Fifth—Jno. Y. Smith, E. L. Armentraut.
Sixth—J. Henry Phipps, ——.

Of those who remain up, several refused to state explicity when approached whether they would remain on the ticket or not. So this leaves four unfilled places, besides the unknown quantities. Of those who still stay up whom the Telegram has succeeded in interviewing, only Mr. M. C. Stewart and Judge Adams came out squarely and said directly that they intended to stick.

The "Tailors of Tooley Street" (Many Citizens) will have to call another meeting and fill these places, and also stuff enough courage into some of those who remain up to make them admit that they are a "runnin'."

It might be in order, also, to say something about a platform and tell what the "Citizen's Ticket" stands for.

The "Citizens' Ticket" at present seems to be a little frayed at the ends, and in need of patching.

WHAT WAS HIS BUSINESS?

Chairman Holton Reported to have Given Instruction to the Faithful.

Chairman A. E. Holton, of the Republican State Executive Committee, was here yesterday. Today it is the talk on the street that while here he looked into the condition of municipal politics and smacked his lip. And then he looked again, and smacked his lip again.

Beside this he is reported to have given the Republicans strict orders to support the "Citizens' Ticket" heartily, and commanded that every negro in the city be registered, and voted for the "Citizens' Ticket."

And then it is said that he gleefully predicted the defeat of organized Democracy in Greensboro, then in Guilford County, and then in the State.

Then he smacked his lip again and went back to the Twin City.

WHITE SUPREMACY.

To the Editor of the Telegram.

As a new-comer, I trust that I may be permitted to say a few words about the greatest issue now before our people. Our State is now in the throes of a political revolution, the like of which has not been seen in years. The white people are trying to rid the State once for all of the curse of an ignorant negro vote.

The Republican party, organized by a myriad of federal office-holders is making the fight of its life and its State headquarters are right here in Greensboro.

And yet they all tell me that Democrats are going to divide up. Soldiers tell us that it is dangerous, and usually fatal, to divide forces in the presence of the enemy, and I trust that Democrats will not be guilty of so grave a tactical blunder.

When asked the reason for the threatened split, they tell me that some Democrats are opposed to the Dispensary. Well, it puzzles me to understand what the Dispensary has to do with it. The Mayor and Board of Aldermen cannot repeal the Dispensary law, and at most, all they could do would be to refuse to enforce it and to wink at blind tigers, and of course no good citizen would desire that. And even if they are opposed to it they tell me, that they have bolted even before the Democratic primaries are held. "They have kicked before they were spurred" No ticket has yet been nominated and if these gentlemen opposed any men or measures they could have gone into the Democratic primaries and voted their convictions. Democrats should fight out their differences among themselves, and not call in the enemy to aid them, lest after the enemy has gotten in, he turn and rend both sides.

I believe it would be a great shock and disappointment to the people of the whole State, if any respectable number of Democrats should fuse with the Republicans in this city election and thus lend them aid and encouragement. Newcomer.

MEMORIAL DAY EXERCISES.

Every Confederate in the County Invited—The Program.

The Guilford chapter of the Daughters of the Confederacy are making great preparations for Memorial Day —May 10. They extend to every Confederate soldier in the county a hearty invitation to meet with them in the celebration.

For the convenience of the veterans who live in the country, the exercises will be held in the morning, so they can get home by night. The crowd will assemble at the Academy of Music at half past nine, so that the exercises may begin promptly at ten. The Daughters consider themselves very fortunate in having secured Major Charles M. Steadman as their orator for the day—a gallant ex-Confederate himself, and as fine an orator as North Carolina has.

The program at the Academy of Music will consist of the address, the recitation of a short poem, appropriate songs, by male quartette, Southern Airs, by our own Gate City band, invocation and benediction.

At the conclusion of these services the procession, under the skilled management of Mr. Will McAdoo, will form a march to the cemetery, where the graves of our fallen heroes will be decorated, during the singing of "Cover them over with beautiful flowers" by a quartette. After the conclusion of the exercises, the Daughters will serve a lunch to the ex-Confederates, on the Academy lawn.

is where we stand in the lumber business. At the kicking post, as it were, in regard to prices.

First comes the owner of the timber. He just woke up to the value of it and wants double last year's prices. Then the sawmill man. He has not been making a fortune and thinks now he should share a little in the general prosperity

They say to us: "We must have so much for our trees and work." After a while it is "up to you." Don't kick. You don't suppose we have nerve enough to put up prices unless they had first been put up on us. No, indeed. But prices are NOT high. They have been to low and are just now getting reasonable. Your children will be glad to build at double the price it now costs you. It is a trite, but true saying, if you want to build, "Now is the time."

And ours is the place to get the stuff.
